

LOCAL MENTION.

All communications should be addressed to THE VIRGINIA CITIZEN, IRVINGTON, VA.

Robt. Bonner, of Baltimore, is visiting relatives here.

A. D. Dart spent a few days in Norfolk and Ocean view this week.

New moving picture scenes at the Opera House tonight (Thursday).

Calvin Brewington is home from Pinetown's Point to spend the summer.

Mrs. Willie Crandle and three children, of lower Lancaster, are guests of Mrs. S. B. Griffith.

Mrs. Emma Davis and Miss Edith George visited friends in Fredericksburg last week.

Shows and base-ball should slow down after tomorrow. Business demands that enough frolicking is enough.

Watch those who refuse to help the V. I. A. cause and see how they refuse to enjoy our improvements—not much.

Mrs. Eufrosia Pettigall, lately in Richmond, has been called to South Carolina by sickness of Mrs. Mary Leonard.

Miss Sophie Pendleton Hodgkin, of Washington, arrived Wednesday to visit her father, Dr. J. B. Hodgkin, at Dr. Oliver's.

Mrs. Howard Jett and three sons were guests at the home of Irving F. Jones Wednesday night, en route to their home in Redwood from King George.

Dr. A. Marks, Eye Sight Specialist, left last Tuesday evening for Philadelphia and will spend three weeks in Eastern Maine. He will be back on the 21st of July.

Some ten or a dozen of the Ladies Choir will accompany Mr. and Mrs. W. McD. Lee next Monday to Newport News and Washington, attending the Virginia Press Association.

Her many friends were glad to see Mrs. Alice Dunton, the aged relative of the late Christopher Dunton, drive from White Stone, accompanied by her son Ellis, Wednesday into this village, the first time in years.

Great preparations are being made for the five thousand expected visitors tomorrow. Pity 'tis so, but, as in such undertakings, a few have the burden to bear. Monday afternoon only 5 out of 36 attended the committee meeting arranging for the provisions.

A letter from Commander Stores, of York camp, closes with a tribute to our choir ladies in this style—"We were very much pleased with the ladies of the choir, and I think some of the York county boys will be coming over your way soon." Laurels, wherever the Lancaster girls go, and the roses follow rapidly.

LOST OR STOLEN—A 12 foot square stern skiff, boot top painted green and flesh color with a mauling dividing same. Copper bottom showing above water. Red and blue band. Flowers painted on both ends. Lead color inside. Seats, locker, mouldings of chestnut. Any one returning to Geo. T. Loke, Irvington, Va., will be suitably rewarded.

Yacht Blanche—Capt. Jas. Wilder, Irving and Ira Messick—took a party of young people Tuesday to Fredericksburg, to return with A. P. Rowan and family, who will spend the Fourth here. Those making the trip were Mrs. E. F. Garner, Miss Kate Messick, Julia Buck, Bessie Omohundro, Lura and Virginia Cannon, Ida Joe Haydon, Myrtle and Lilly Brewington.

Among the influx of visitors we note: Misses Bessie Omohundro and Lura Cannon and Henry Nolley at the home of E. W. Long; Mrs. W. J. Phillips and little son at Dr. Oliver's; Miss Virginia Cannon at J. W. Haydon's; Misses Blanche Jones, Annie Nolley and Ida Brown at W. McD. Lee's; H. Mason Evans, Miss Mamie Snead and Helen Lapham at R. S. Mitchell's, little Miss Virginia at Rev. E. F. Garner's.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

Dr. Frank W. Stiff and family, of Richmond, are visiting relatives in Essex and Westmoreland.

Upon invitation of the CITIZEN'S editor the Hampton Roads Yacht Club, of Norfolk, will rendezvous at Irvington about July 11-13.

Dwelling belonging to J. W. Elliott, in King George county, insured in the Northern Neck Mutual for $500, was destroyed by fire last week.

Police steamers will leave Carter's Wharf 5 a. m., July 4th, and Fitchett and Cricket Hill 7 a. m., to bring veterans to the reunion at Irvington.

Excursions will be run to Irvington for the big Fourth of July blow-out from Fredericksburg and points along the river. They will also come from Reedville and other points along the Bay.

Captain Richard C. Croxton, quartermaster, has been ordered from St. Paul, Minn., to Miles City, Montana, for duty in connection with the purchase and shipment of horses for the army.

The old homestead of Ed. E. Coles, in Wicomico, Northumberland county, was struck by lightning last week and considerably injured. Damages will be repaired by the Northern Neck Mutual Fire Association, of Irvington.

Among passengers on steamer Monday from Norfolk were: W. H. Ryland, A. B. Evans sr., Addison Bristow, Dr. Bohannon, and Prof. O. W. Anderson, of Middlesex; Mrs. Lucy Hundley, of Essex, and W. P. Mullen, of Wheaton.

A letter from Jas. L. Connelley, of Litwiltown, who is now at Edgewater, Col., shows that he is deeply interested in everything in his county. He is in hopes of seeing a number of his Virginia friends at the convention next week.

At the 41st annual association of the teachers of Maryland much honor and praise was paid Miss Beatrice P. Robertson, of Sunnybank, Northumberland county. Miss Robertson delivered a helpful address before the association. The leading educators of the State recognize her as an exceptional teacher. Conservative and retiring, this young lady has ability, great personal magnetism and culture. At present she is principal of the Sharptown High School. She is also a writer of ability and has given to the press some recognized articles.

LANCASTER COUNTY.

WEEMS.

Rev. C. L. Dugges will preach next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist chapel here.

Miss Blanche Henderson, of Antirapp, has been spending a week at the home of Mrs. Leah Atkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank King, of Irvington, were guests Sunday at the home of Capt. B. G. Doggett, at this place.

Julian Cockrell, of Miskimon, was seen here Sunday.

WHITE STONE.

The little child of W. B. Sanders, esq., is improving under treatment from Dr. Newbill.

Mrs. Gaylord Sanders has returned from a recent visit to Mathews, says the Mathews Journal.

Dr. Ben Treake was last week taken to a sanitarium in Richmond by his brother, Robt. Treake, Jas. Hall and Joe James, accompanied them, returning Monday.

Mrs. Geo. V. Bradley and children returned home Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Bradley's sister, Mrs. Jos. Cosby, of Hampton.

Mrs. Annie B. Bellows recently spent a day with Mrs. W. J. Hurley, in Urbanna.

Miss Fannie Bellows returned Tuesday from a visit to Cumberland county, Va., bringing with her Miss Nellie Maie Eley, a schoolmate.

Mrs. Maggie Hughlett and little grandson, Raynard Dunton, of Lynchburg, are visiting friends and relatives here.

OTTOMAN.

A drama called "The County Kid" was played Tuesday night by local talent in the Odd Fellows' Hall for the benefit of Ottoman base-ball team. The sum of $26.25 was realized.

The frame structure of the High School building is growing rapidly under the careful supervision of John Wm. Thomas. The hot and dry spell continues, much to the discomfort of our farmers. A general scarcity of tomatoes, plants, and the dry weather will interfere greatly with the setting of tomato plants, consequently the supply will be short and the canning factories are expecting a dull season.

Children's Day exercises were held at the Baptist church Sunday night.

W. Leon Hall, general sales agent to the East Coleman Corporation Land Company, near Norfolk, was in Ottoman Wednesday and sold lots to some of our progressive people.

Among the sick and convalescent are Malachi Thomas, Mrs. Lyell Ficklin, Dr. Steuart, Mrs. J. E. Blakemore and son Arthur.

Mrs. Jno. Wm. Chowning was the guest of Mrs. Steuart Tuesday.

R. O. Norris, jr., was here Monday on legal business.

KILMARNOCK.

Miss Allie Smith returned to her home here Tuesday from Roanoke Island, N. C., where she has been the past three months.

Rev. F. W. Claybrook left Saturday night for Buckroe Beach where he is in attendance upon the Virginia Baptist Summer Encampment until its close Wednesday.

People of our town appeared pleased with the drama "Arthur Eustace," rendered here by the Irvington troupe Monday night.

Mrs. T. W. Bonner is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas L. Cockrell at Lillian this week.

A. Noblett is in Richmond on business. Robert Webb, who was run over Saturday night before last while he and a number of other young people were serenading a newly married couple, has greatly improved and is sitting up.

Robert ran against Alfred Hudnall horse, was knocked down and the wheels passed over his head before the animal could be stopped. His skull was crushed in two places. Doctors Edmonds and Hubbard who attended him are anxious to take the little fellow to a hospital, seeing no possible way of his fully recovering without trepanning, but there is objection by members of his family and as yet he has not been removed.

IBERIS.

Miss Lummie McKenney left last Friday for Fredericksburg to attend the Summer Normal.

Miss Lizzie Davis, who has been in West Virginia for Armstrong Cator & Co. since March, returned last week to spend a while with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Davis, near Merry Point, much to the delight of her many friends.

Miss Lottie Lowery, who has been attending school in Nebraska for several years has returned to her home near here. We are glad she has returned to stay.

L. O. Towles, the pioneer oyster dealer of Corrotooman, has turned his attention to farming with much success. Planting two barrels seed potatoes he has shipped over 40 barrels, some of them selling for $3.40.

Barge Albermarle, Captain John Wolf, of Chesapeake City, Md., with his young wife on board, is loading about 400 cords excelsior wood for the paper mills in Elkton.

H. E. Beane lost an ox Sunday from an unknown cause.

Robert Garner, of Irvington, was here Tuesday on business.

That it pays to ship nothing but the best was in evidence when George R. McKenney shipped some spring chickens to Lancaster some time ago that sold for $9.36 per dozen wholesale.

LANCASTER COURTHOUSE.

T. L. Dunaway, of Merry Point, while painting the roof of J. H. Daventport's kitchen on Tuesday last, fell sustaining very painful, though not serious injuries. Dr. M. C. Oldham was called and rendered necessary aid.

Miss Genevieve Gresham, of Portmouth, is on a visit to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Gresham, near here.

Miss Lola Haynie left Monday for Fredericksburg to attend the Normal there.

Rev. J. H. Combs was visiting friends in lower Lancaster last week.

Mrs. Henry Nichols is in Baltimore and Easton, Md., for a while.

Miss Genevieve Pinckard, of Rehoboth,

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

June brides are on the home stretch. Forty marriage licenses were issued in Baltimore June 29th.

In Heathville last week Mrs. Maria A. Winstead and Edgar Crabtree, both of Northumberland, were married by Rev. C. H. Williams.

Charles Walker Lynch, a lumberman of Salisbury, Md., and Miss Pearl McKenney, of Lancaster county, Va., were married in Baltimore Tuesday of this week.

John M. Omohundro and Miss Eunice Blake Annadale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Annadale, of Westmoreland county, were married recently at Baynesville. They will reside at Harvard, Mass.

Dr. H. V. Bristow and Miss Bunnie Gresham Tyler, of Tappahannock, were married Saturday at noon at the Baptist church at Tappahannock by Rev. Thomas Lewis. A. A. Cralle, formerly of this county, was one of the groomsmen.

MESSICK-SIMMONS—The Baptist church at Irvington, Va., was crowded on Saturday night last by the many friends and acquaintances of Mr. Arthur P. Messick and Miss Mary Louise Simmons—the occasion being the joining of these two in holy matrimony. Miss Simmons is well known here as one of our most charming young ladies, and Mr. Messick is equally as well known as one of our most popular young men.

The attendants were: Mr. George Messick, best man; Messrs. Barker Hopkins, Irving Messick, Lee and Perry Simmons (brothers of the bride), as ushers; Maid of honor, Miss Nannie Mae Squires; Flower girls, Rachel Messick and Mary Towell; Ring bearer, Eloise Towell. The dress of the bride was a tastefully made gown of mousseline over taffeta, with hand-made lace. Her veil was caught up with sweet peas, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and sweet peas. The bride's attendants wore lace trimmed organdies with pink sashes. The maid of honor carried pink roses. The flower girls, bearing baskets of daisies, and sweet peas, strewn the bride's path to the altar with the flowers. The church was prettily decorated with asparagus, palms, daisies and pink roses. Miss Pauline Lund, presiding at the organ, rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march, as the bride entered the church, and Lohegrin after the ceremony. Other compositions were rendered during the half hour preceding the ceremony. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Mr. S. Perry Simmons, preceded by her bridesmaid, Miss Mary Louise Simmons. The bride's groom, Rev. F. W. Claybrook, performed the ceremony to the sweet strains of Nevin's Love Song. Supper was served to the bridal party at the home of the bride, after which the happy pair took the Norfolk steamer, en route to New York, Hudson river and other points.

JAMES-SPRIGGS—Just as the last afternoon of the merry month of June was nearing a close, was celebrated in White Stone Methodist church an event to which lower Lancaster had for some time looked forward with bright anticipations—the marriage of David R. James, jr., and Miss Ruby W. Spriggs. Long before the appointed hour the church was filled to its utmost capacity which clearly attested the popularity of this young couple. Never before was there witnessed a scene more pleasing to the eye of the artistic, or of rarer beauty, than on this particular occasion when, as the rays from the lighted chandelier shed its softest hues gently on the beautiful decorations beneath, about which were gathered the bridal party, awaiting the performance of this sacred rite. About the altar and inside the chancel was tastefully arranged pink and blue hyacinths behind which was a back ground of ferns and palms. Promptly at the appointed hour four, to the strains of Lohegrin, sweetly rendered by Miss Pauline C. Long, of Irvington, the bridal party entered the church and proceeded up the left aisle in the following order:—first the ushers, Messrs. E. M. Edwards and Herbert Ingram, Dr. B. H. Hubbard and Mr. Joe James, then Miss Allie Merle James and Miss Ethel Towles, followed by the bride, who was leaning on the arm of her cousin, Mr. G. W. Sanders, by whom she was given away. The groom with his best man, Mr. T. James, entered from a rear door of the church. On leaving the church first was little Miss Lucy Treake, who strewn flowers along the aisle, followed by the bride and groom and their attendants. Miss Lillian Cralle with Mr. W. T. James, Miss Ethel Towles with Dr. B. H. Hubbard, Miss Allie Merle James with Mr. Joe James and Mr. E. M. Edwards with Mr. Herbert Ingram. The bride was handsomely attired in white liberty satin, trimmed in bandings of embroidered fillet net and wore white gloves, her long veil being tastefully caught up with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of maiden hair ferns, lilies of the valley, and brides roses. The bridesmaids wore white mull over taffeta, white gloves, and carried white carnations. The maid of honor, Miss Lillian Cralle was gowned in pink embroidered chiffon over taffeta, wore pink gloves and carried pink carnations. The groom and groomsmen wore the usual black. The bride's going away gown was of gray electric cloth, hat and gloves to match. Rev. E. F. Garner, assisted by Rev. G. Y. Bradley, impressively performed the ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony the happy pair drove to White Stone wharf where they boarded a steamer for a northern tour. On their return they will reside in their beautiful new home in White Stone. The bride is the accomplished daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emory Spriggs, while the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. James, of White Stone, and one of Lancaster's most enterprising young business men. The bride was the recipient of quite a number of very handsome presents. May life's path be strewn with roses, as on their wedding day, the little flower girl so began it, is the sincere wish of the many friends of this popular young couple.

The arrangements are under the well known fair manager—W. A. WAVER, 2235 PARK ST., T. J. JACKSON, THOS. JOHNSON, Consolidated, which assures its success.

THE HIGH SCHOOL QUESTION.

A Plea For A Central Location.

To use the expression of one of our most cultured and wisest writers of the last century, "A little learning is a dangerous thing." This does not mean that we must not have any learning at all, but rather that we must try to have enough to pass the danger line of thinking we have some, when we have none.

The subject of a High School at Weems is one which seems to be agitating the minds of the people of this community at present. We hope that if we should succeed in getting it that it will be centrally located, so that it may be reasonably easy of access to all classes and conditions of children, who will have to depend on it for an education. Every one should take an interest in this matter, whether they have children or not, for we are in a measure our brother's keeper. Social ostracism is one of the crying evils of today, and lack of an education is one of the greatest causes of it. Give a child an education and he can rise above his surroundings and can afford to ignore the incident of birth. As says the poet in these lines:

"Many among the thieves have fallen sure,
Whose lives the world is ready to deplore,
And yet it may not always be their fault
That sin disgraced them ere they did fall."

As I said before, we are "our brother's keeper," and it is the Christian duty of those who have the matter in charge to see to it that this school, if we have it at all, is placed where all will be benefited alike irrespective of anything except to do the most good. The incident of birth is nothing compared to the accident of having no education. Children are not responsible for being born where circumstances have placed them. Environment has so much to do with shaping a child's character. Surrounded by adverse conditions, is it any wonder they do not grow up into better men and women? We should all recognize the universal brotherhood of man, and as Zimmerman so gracefully says in his beautiful lines: "Promote human brotherhood and love one another. Make the golden rule your food. Treat mankind as brothers. Always have the true regard for fellowman's mother. Let us think not only of our own children but of our friends, neighbors and fellowman's children, as well as our own, and let us bend our energies all together in the direction which tend to give rich and poor, high and low, all alike the very best education we possibly can, and the future generations will rise up and call us blessed."

BASE BALL.

Irvington won over White Stone at this place Wednesday. Score 7 to 5.

Irvington-Ottoman game at Irvington Friday resulted 18 to 0 in favor of Irvington.

White Stone defeated Lancaster on Saturday. They have one more game of their series of three, each having won one.

Tomorrow, the Fourth, Sharps plays at Urbanna, and Tappahannock at Irvington. The Sharps team will come to Irvington for the night exercises.

Irvington and Kilmarnock played at Kilmarnock Monday a beautiful and fast game to the ninth inning, score 2 to 2. In the last inning Kilmarnock protested against a decision and refused to play further, so the game was declared in favor of Irvington.

Sharps defeated Farnham Saturday afternoon, score 9 to 1. At the ending of the seventh inning, when the score was 7 to 4 in favor of Sharps, Farnham boys said they would not finish the game, so the two umpires decided the game to be 9 to 1 in favor of Sharps. They have played 10 games this season. Of these they have lost only two.
